

123 WORCESTER ROAD

This was a private house until the 1950s when Lewis Davies started a greengrocer's. He was to be seen sitting in an old armchair wearing gaiters and an apron; his till was an old coffee tin. His daughter Mary took over the business with her husband Arthur Jones in 1958.

The shop front as it was until 1979.

There was another shop refit in 1979 when Ben Bradley opened a furniture shop.

Shipways estate agency took over in 1987.
